Giselle's Story enlightened consciousness, awareness

Giselle is the catalyst that opened the gate into a new understanding of horses and all that connects us. Tricia met Giselle at a riding school where she quickly revealed that she was not a suitable lesson horse. Through no fault of her own, she had strong opinions about humans which included her need to defend herself when approached.

What Tricia observed was a highly sensitive mare that was misunderstood. Time was of the essence as the riding school discussed euthanasia. So, Tricia quickly stepped forward and bought her. This secured Giselle's future and was the beginning of a journey filled with profound love, wisdom and understanding.

Giselle has overcome many challenges with trust, communication, and being a partner.

Together they developed a relationship that not only bridges the gap between horse and human but one that enhances relationships with all, including life itself.
